

ACS Webinar for Cancer Coalitions

Cancer and Climate Change

This webinar will help you understand how climate change can increase exposure to cancer risk factors and exacerbate cancer disparities. Learn how cancer coalitions can build their prevention efforts by mitigating climate effects.

January 14th, 2025

2:00–3:00 PM EST

Register Here

Leticia Nogueira, PhD, MPH
Scientific Director of Health Services research at the American Cancer Society

Gila Neta, PhD, MPP – Program Director with the Implementation Science team, Division of Cancer Control & Population Sciences at the National Cancer Institute

We acknowledge the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, for its support of the American Cancer Society staff, and in the development and dissemination of this newsletter, under cooperative agreement NU58DP007540 awarded to American Cancer Society. Its contents are solely the responsibility of the authors and do not necessarily represent the official views of CDC.